Dentures made with Ivoclar Vivadent products offer you more options, better esthetics and greater function. These products are manufactured using the most advanced material science to guarantee an enhanced appearance and dependable wear for years to come. You'll benefit from the smile-specific tooth selection and hygienic gum tissue that fits better and is easier to keep clean.

Ivoclar Vivadent Removable Products give you

- A patented processing technique for long-term comfort and cleanliness.
- Gender specific tooth shapes and colors that complement your age and personality.
- Materials that replicate the life-like depth, color and beauty of natural teeth.

These dentures avoid the three primary pitfalls of most denture products: lack of personalization, susceptibility to bacteria growth, and poor fit. Your dentist can choose from the most natural looking denture teeth available for true-to-life esthetics. Also, the advanced process for making these dentures prevents shrinkage that occurs in conventional dentures, which can lead to sore spots and a loose fit. Our removable products ensure a final result that is not just a denture, but a smile perfect for you. See for yourself how removable dentures have changed peoples lives.

“I’m more confident than ever and proud of my attractive smile”

Growing up, Kristi always had sensitive teeth that made hot and cold food and drinks unbearable. Her gums frequently bled, leading to fear about brushing her teeth. As a teenager, she was plagued by cavities and fillings. The frequent abscesses she developed were only treated when she was in pain. After facing a lifetime of dental complications, Kristi wanted a healthy, beautiful smile. She started her journey with anxiety and uncertainty but discovered she didn't have to settle for what everyone expects of dentures. She learned dentures could give her a complete full-mouth smile makeover.

At first, she had no idea how different materials affect denture esthetics, cost and comfort. Today, Kristi shares her inspiring story at www.iweardentures.com

Amy was in her early 20s when she began struggling with her dental health. A car accident and severe acid reflux from her first pregnancy left her with only 11 teeth and an ill-fitting removable partial denture she wouldn't wear. As her dental health declined, multiple cavities were treated with fillings. She was crying from tooth pain when she Googled "young denture wearers." The first video that popped up was one of Kristi's, a woman Amy's age. The Phonares® denture teeth video inspired Amy to make appointments and try to find something better. On the final delivery day, Amy didn't recognize herself. The shape and feel of the Phonares® denture teeth were extremely natural and she was elated she could smile again.

“I was elated and I could smile again and be carefree”

With a new smile, Anna began approaching life differently, including her interactions with family and friends. Now she doesn't worry about her dentures slipping because they fit like a glove. Carol was a denture wearer for 39 years and expected dentures to be a part of her life for many more. What she didn't expect was that there could be such a gap in comfort between old and new dentures. She prepared herself for changes, but the opportunities new dentures gave her left Carol amazed at what she was missing. As an avid baker, she can now eat anything without fear of it affecting her teeth. She's no longer self-conscious because her dentures look like her natural smile. She credits her dental team with inspiring her to pursue new dentures and to welcome the experience with open arms. The support she continues to receive has made her journey so much easier.

“Just because you get dentures doesn't mean you're old”

“David's new denture has been truly life-changing”

David suffered with poor dental health for some time. He never knew what properly fitting dentures could do for his health and self-esteem until he received his new set. David was initially wary of what the new dentures might do. He had heard stories and knew of other people who had poor experiences. But when he was fitted for the final dentures, he was ecstatic. David could eat and speak without issue, his dentures were comfortable and he knew they were going to be life altering. Today, David loves his new look. He's not the only one either. His family is amazed by his new appearance and can't believe the difference in his smile and how natural his teeth look.

Joseph is a patient from Sacramento whose dentures have completely changed his life. He used to think he would spend his entire life unhappy, avoiding social interactions with clients and family. With the smile he now has, he's not afraid to talk to people. Joseph is thrilled with his new dentures. He isn't limited by eating choices and his speech hasn't changed. “Sometimes I even forget I'm wearing my dentures”

Kristen was incredibly self-conscious about people looking at her. She was always worried they saw what she saw: an unpleasant, poorly designed smile. It got to the point where she couldn't ignore her situation. Feeling helpless, she decided to get new dentures. She noticed an immediate change once she received them. Kristen likes the color of her new dentures because they aren't as white as her old set and look more natural. Her family has noticed the difference as well. Her daughter commented on how much Kristen smiles now. It's a reflection of how happy and confident she has become since receiving her new dentures. She'll forget she's wearing dentures because they feel just like her regular teeth.
